Superforts Destroy Red Supply Center In 4th Biggest Raid

SEOUL, March 18 (AP)—American B29 Superforts virtually wiped out the Communist supply and troop center of Pungna in Manchuria's southern outskirts today in the fourth largest bomber strike of the Korean War.

On the ground, Dutch and South Korean troops teamed up to smash Chinese attacks on two advanced positions in the western sector northeast of Yonchon.

Behind the line, four unidentified aircraft strafed positions on the Eastern Front. The Eighth Army reported there were no casualties but that one truck was damaged. Later today the Air Force said it was conducting an investigation.

Twenty-seven Okinawa-based Superforts which bombed Pungna's 320 wooden buildings plowed through 40 miles of flak and braved Red night fighters to reach their target. Another 13 hit Red lines.

One airman said the Communist supply, troop and factory complex at Pungna "went up at once, as though someone had spilled gunpowder over the area and lit it."

It was the first time the Pungna site had been hit. It is three miles southeast of Sinuiju in Northwest Korea. It was so close to Manchuria that Red anti-aircraft guns inside China fired on the B29s.

Off the Korean east coast three American seamen were injured by shore guns answering the fire of the destroyers Taussig and Keys and raking the tiny minesweeper Gull. One man was hurt on the Taussig and two on the Gull.

The shore fire came while the destroyers were bombarding targets of opportunity along the main north-south railroad line.

Beat Back 7 Attacks
Dutch and ROK infantrymen beat back seven Communist probing attacks before dawn—the largest in a bitter 45-minute battle northeast of "The Hook" on the Western Front. The Eighth Army reported they killed or wounded 80 Chinese in smashing attack against a U. N. advance position northeast of "the Hook."

Some 100 Chinese assaulted the hill position under cover of an artillery and mortar barrage but were mowed down by rifle and machine-gun fire on the slopes.

Six other small Communist probing contacts were beaten back last night and early today.

affiliation with the Communist party," Brownell continued, "deportation proceedings will be instituted against these aliens."

At present, 280 Communist party leaders are under deportation orders, the attorney general asserted.

$4 Billion Cut Would Balance Budget - Taft
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today a four billion dollar cut in former President Truman's spending estimates may be enough to balance the federal budget in the year beginning July 1.

Taft, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he believes that from 1 1/2 to 2 billion dollars can be whacked off the cost of civilian activities but the remainder will have to come off the military program.

His budget balancing estimates are much lower than those previously made by other congressional leaders.

Truman estimated that during the fiscal year the government will pay out $78,600,000,000, about 10 billion more than expected revenues. But Taft said he doubts expenditures will rise much, if any, above the present annual rate of about 72 billion.

Taft said that 72 billion level can be taken as a starting point and if spending can be cut four billions below that, it would balance the budget, he added.

"I don't believe, however, that we can cut civilian activities back more than 1 1/2 or 2 billion and we will have to get the remainder out of military funds."

Free Tea Offered To Cut Coffee Price
CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Cleveland hotels, indignant over hikes in coffee prices, are serving their guests free tea in retaliation.

"We hope the policy will spread all over the country," said Sheridan Horwitz, vice president of the Allerton Hotel, which started the drive. "We're going to stay with it until coffee prices go down again."

With the Allerton in the beverage giveaway were the Hollenden and Fenway Hotel hotels. All reported the same reaction as that noted by Horwitz.

"The customers like it. Several people told me they were going to stick to tea for good."

Horwitz said tea consumption at the Allerton's noon meal rose to 700 cups from an average of 50 cups which had sold at a dime each. Coffee sales for the same meal plunged from 1,000 cups to about 300 at the same 10-cent price.

He said the cost of coffee to hotels here went up three cents Tuesday to 82 cents a pound, and that "unless we do something the price soon will be 90 cents."

Water Usage Drops; Hardness To Diminish

Superintendent, Service Director Report To Council

Salem City Council took no legislative action on any issue at Tuesday's meeting because the absence of three of its members left the remainder of the body short of the quorum required for the transaction of any such business.

Council President Ned Massa had excused Councilmen Fred Koenreich and Michael Schuller from attending the session, and the additional absence of Councilman Robert Carpenter throttled any anticipated legislation.

The lawmakers did, however, hear reports of officers and the most important report was that made by Aubrey Hayes, water superintendent.

Mr. Hayes declared that for the first 15 days of March, water consumption in the city had dropped approximately 70,000 gallons per day. Consumption averaged 1,389,000 gallons per day during that period as compared to 1,459,000 a day during February.

People Faucet-Conscious

When queried by councilmen as to the reason for the low consumption, Mr. Hayes declared, "People may be watching their faucets."

It is noted however, that the drop during a month when the normal trend in the past has been an increase is coincident with the passage at Council's last regular session of the sewage rental ordinance. Rates of the sewage ordinance are based on water consumption.

Mr. Hayes declared that the hardness of the water during the past two weeks has been averaging just a fraction below nine grains per gallon. Ultimate goal of the department, he said, is to reduce the hardness to six grains per gallon.

The water superintendent told the lawmakers that water is being poured into the East Cold Run reservoir 24 hours per day. The lake now contains approximately one-sixth of its capacity of 680,000,000 gallons.

Cites Police Efficiency

Safety-Service Director J. Arch Harwood reported to Council that the raising of the police department personnel to its full force has resulted in a much more thorough job.

Negro Known Who Saved Life Of U. S. Colonel

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—A 19-year-old Negro who was "helped by The Lord" stood in front of a bunker on embattled little Gibraltar Tuesday and kept attacking Chinese Communists from reaching a wounded American lieutenant colonel.

Pvt. Courtney L. Stanley of near Mansfield, La., was identified today as the soldier who saved the officer's life and two other men in the bunker. The colonel's name was withheld.

Stanley said he killed eight Chinese who attacked the bunker. He suffered only a few scratches from Communist concussion grenades and was still on duty on Little Gibraltar today.

A Second Division officer took Stanley to a rear area where Pfc. William Wuorinen of Neselle, Wash., who was with the wounded colonel, identified Stanley and said: "He saved everybody's life in that bunker."

Second Man Faces Jury For Burglary

LISBON — The second suspect, who confessed to a series of six burglaries here in recent months, was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday on two counts of breaking and entering.

Maurice Manns of E. Washington St. entered guilty pleas to charges of taking items valued at $200 from the Farmers Exchange and $120 in dimes from Carl's Tavern after a hearing before Mayor Wilbur Warren. Bond was set at $2,000.

Earl Joseph of N. Market St. was bound over Monday after pleading innocent to breaking and entering Carl's Tavern.

Both were arrested Sunday morning after Joseph was discovered in the Tavern on S. Market St. Joseph is free on a $2,000 bond while Manns is being held in Lisbon jail.

U. S. Demands Russia Discipline MIG Pilot

2 British Jets Collide, Pilots Die, Before Tito

Marshal Sees Plane Break Sound Barrier; Shaken By Air Crash

DUXFORD, England (AP)—Two British jet fighters collided today before the horrified gaze of President Marshal Tito, killing both pilots.

Then the shaken Yugoslav leader, for the first time, saw and heard another jet crash the sound barrier.

Britain trotted out its hottest military aircraft for inspection by Tito, who is anxious to get similar planes for the Yugoslav Air Force.

The collision occurred during tight formation flying by Meteors. Twenty-four jets in all were involved. As four of the Meteors were changing position one ran into the tail of another. The wreckage fell six miles away from this Royal Air Force airfield in Cambridgeshire.

When the Meteors returned to land, Tito saluted the planes in tribute to the dead pilots.

The accident wiped the marshal's usual wide smile from his face. He leaped up in horror as the planes came together. Later he was pale and disturbed as he entered the officers' mess for a pre-arranged luncheon.

It was the second incident of its kind Tito has witnessed since he left his homeland to pay an official visit to Britain. Six days ago, while he was en route here, three British naval aircraft crashed off Gibraltar. Four men were listed as missing and presumed dead in that accident.

A RAF officer said that before the flying began Tito twice had asked to cancel the display because of the weather. After the crash he turned to Lord Tedder, marshal of the RAF, and said: "please, do not have any more."

But Squadron Leader Neville Duke — one of Britain's hottest, best known pilots — already had taken up a gleaming Hawker Hunter into the heavy overcast.

Then Duke came roaring down. As his engines screamed he pushed past the speed of sound. Tito who had started for his car thinking the display was over stopped and looked up. Three sharp bangs and a white signal that Duke had broken the barrier again.

The Yugoslav government chief and his foreign minister, Koca Popovic, had a two-hour conference with Churchill and Eden last night at the British prime minister's heavily guarded residence at No. 10 Downing Street.

The discussion was said to have ranged over the whole field of strategy in the cold war with Russia, especially in light of the recent death of Joseph Stalin.

Jury Venire Drawn For New Court Term

LISBON — Columbiana County jury commissioners met Tuesday at the Courthouse when 200 names were drawn from the jury wheel, as prospective jurors for the April term of Court.

Fifty will be notified to report April 6 as prospective jurors on the grand jury. Fifteen will actually serve.

County To Assist Perry Twp. On Seven Road Repair Jobs

Seven road improvements are planned around Salem by the Perry Township trustees as the result of the trustees' annual meeting with Columbiana county commissioners on the spring road program.

Slag already is being hauled to the site of the projects by township workers.

The township will spend $2,000 for slag, the county providing the rest of the material, labor and equipment.

The most extensive project will be the resurfacing of the East Line Road from Route 14 east of Salem south to the Franklin Road. In connection with this job, a dangerous curve will be eliminated near Perry Grange hall.

In addition, the trustees will have an old roadbed improved and widened to extend from Route 14 south from the center of the Millville Hill to intersect with the Butcher

7 Salem Firms Get Awards At Industrial Safety Banquet

Seven Salem companies were a Safety Committee held its third annual banquet in the Masonic Temple.

Two hundred and fifty-five representatives of manufacturing concerns throughout the county attended the event which was co-sponsored by the state industrial commission.

Michael Schuller, committee chairman, who presided, was lauded for his efforts in the safety campaign by Will T. Blake of East Liverpool, chairman of the state industrial commission, and James H. Fluker, chairman of the Ohio Division of Safety and Hygiene.

Principal speaker was Arthur C. Horrocks, public relations official of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, who gave an inspiring message on safety and the atomic era.

Awards to Salem firms included: Salem Stamping & Mfg. Co., a group award and a citation for no accidents during year.

Salem Label Co., a 25 per cent improvement award and a no accident citation.

Gonda Engineering Co., 25 per cent improvement and no accidents.

Salem News, no accidents award.

Salem China Co., accident reduction rate of 25 per cent or more.

Electric Furnace Co., accident reduction of 25 per cent or more.

Mullins Mfg. Corp., group winner and 25 per cent or more improvement.

The Crucible Steel Co. of East Liverpool received a triple citation.

Mr. Schuller's annual report revealed 81 county firms participating in the 1952 program to improve industrial safety and with 91 less accidents during the year despite the fact that 123,543 more hours were worked during that period.

Nineteen companies completed the year without accidents, compared to 14 firms the previous year.

Rudolph Hernstrom Named New Fireman

Rudolph Hernstrom of 781 E. Third St., a Mullins Manufacturing Co. employee, has been appointed by the city Board of Control to fill the vacancy in the fire department caused by the resignation last month of Fireman Robert Knepper.

Hernstrom was certified by the Salem Civil Service Commission following the examination held at City Hall last week. Others who took the exam are Daniel Papp of 274 N. Ellsworth Ave., Harold E. Pike of 1294 E. Third St. and James Morocco of 610 E. Fourth St.

Another fire department vacancy will be created the end of this month with the effective resignation of Richard F. Loutzenhiser. Loutzenhiser informed Safety-Service Director J. Arch Harwood Monday of his intention of quitting to seek other employment.

Township trustees are Joseph Reese, chairman, Dean Cranmer and John VanBlaricom.

9 Scouts To Go To Jamboree

6 Salem Boys Already Picked For Long Trip

At least nine Salem Boy Scouts will attend the 1953 Scout Jamboree in California July 17 to 23.

Scouts already registered for the trip and participation in the national event are:

Robert McArthur and Nick Costa of Troop 3 of the Presbyterian Church, and Frank Heston, Richard Heston, Roy Nichols and Bob Howard of Troop 5 of the Christian Church.

The Rotary Club is sponsoring two additional scouts to the extent of 50 per cent of expenses, to be selected by an impartial committee, and the Lions Club will sponsor one additional scout to the extent of 50 per cent of expenses.

The American Legion also has donated $50 to be used where necessary and at the discretion of the Salem Jamboree committee which consists of Ralph Martin, William Barry and Ed Shuster.

A total of 37 scouts will attend the jamboree from the Columbiana County Boy Scout Council. The council was the third council in Region 4 to meet its jamboree quota.

Scout jamboree registrations by communities is:

Salem, 9; Columbiana, 13; East Palestine, 5; Millport, 1; East Liverpool, 6; Newell, 2, and Chester, 1.

Richter Sentenced For Another Robbery

William H. Richter, 31, of Fomell, Pa., who was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary Friday by Common Pleas Judge Joel Sharp, received another one to 25 year sentence Tuesday in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court after his plea for probation was denied.

He was arrested in Salem last May for robbery of a dry cleaning shop here and one at Lisbon and an attempted robbery of another in Salem.

Mahoning County officials had charged him with robbing a dry cleaning establishment at Youngstown.

Judge Sharp sentenced Richter to prison for term of one to 25 years on two counts of robbery and one of attempted robbery. The terms will run concurrently.

Beloit Driver Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Kenneth Fiets, 29, of Beloit, crashed into a utility pole when he lost control of the car he was driving north on Route 45, five miles south of Salem at 3:10 this morning.

State highway patrolmen said he sustained abrasions and contusions of the forehead and was treated at City Hospital.

Plane Attacked U. S. Bomber Off Kamchatka

Strong Protest Given To Russia; U. S. Plane Returned Red's Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today demanded that Russia discipline the Soviet jet fighter who attacked a U. S. weather reconnaissance plane last Sunday 25 miles off Kamchatka.

The State Department announced a protest has been delivered to the Moscow Foreign Office by the American Embassy.

The note asks measures to prevent a repetition of such an attack and "disciplinary action" against those responsible for Sunday's incident.

The Air Force announced Tuesday that the American B-50 bomber, flying out of Alaska, was trailed by two Soviet MIG-15s and that one Russian plane opened fire on it. The B-50 returned fire and the Soviet plane did not press the attack.

No Damage Done
The exchange apparently did no damage to either plane.

The State Department announced the substance of the protest, but the text of the note was not made public for the time being.

The department's announcement said:

"The American Embassy at Moscow this morning on instructions from the State Department lodged a vigorous protest with the Soviet Foreign Office against the attack by MIG fighters upon a U. S. Air Force RB-50 in the Bering Sea on March 15.

Set's Plane's Position
"The note sets forth the position of the U. S. plane when attacked (about 100 miles northeast of Petropavlovsk and at least 25 miles from the nearest Soviet territory), vigorously protests the action of the Soviet aircraft, that the states government of the United States expects to be informed at an early date of the disciplinary action taken with regard to the Soviet personnel responsible for the attack, and asks for information concerning measures adopted by Soviet authorities to prevent a recurrence of incidents of this kind."

Stevenson Impressed By Korean Visit

SEOUL (AP)—Adlai Stevenson ended a five-day tour of Korea today and said he was tremendously impressed "with the infinite difficulties that this cruel war presents."

"I must say I don't know how long this senseless war will go on—how long the Chinese, once the friends of the Koreans and the Americans, and most of all, the United Nations here engaged, will continue to bleed and die for their Russian masters," he added.

The 1952 U. S. Democratic presidential nominee left for Japan after a tour of this war-ravaged nation, including a trip to the battlefront, where Communist mortar shells landed within a few hundred yards of him.

Police Investigate Air Rifle Damage

The police are attempting to nip the latest air rifle fad in the bud, after a number of glass panels on parking meters and merchants' display windows were shot out in the past four days.

Robert Heddeleston said that one of his display windows had been damaged by an air rifle pellet.

Fission-Osophy

Reports of the latest Nevada tests to determine what an atomic blast would do to mankind reveal little more than had been comprehended before. Survival would depend on where you were and what you were doing.

If more is being revealed than is being comprehended, that must be charged against some failure in communication, not failure in comprehension. It needs to be acknowledged in this respect that the Atomic Energy Commission, the Office of Civil Defense and probably the military establishment, too, are up against a hard proposition.

There has developed in this country and presumably in other countries a "fission-osophy," which is a crude substitute for the practical philosophy that sustained man when his perils consisted of threats he could understand, after his limited fashion.

He could build his house stout enough to withstand wind and flood. He could conduct himself, if he chose, in a way to withstand penalties for willful wrong-doing. He could try to protect his health by avoiding known hazards and removing them if they were not fixed circumstances of existence.

But the possibility of being exposed to an unexpected atomic blast is an unprecedented challenge to human composure. It is being responded to in various ways, but mostly with an attitude of defeatism.

If it were to happen, everything would depend on chance. Blessed would be the man who happened to be fixing the furnace, examining papers in a safety-deposit vault, vacationing in the north woods or driving out in the country to admire the scenery. He would live to tell of man's inhumanity to man and the consequences thereof—a story told only by the survivors of the blasts at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, which occurred when A-bombs were still in their earliest stages.

Payroll Parasites

Civil service being what it is, the Democratic party will have preponderant weight on the federal payroll for many years to come. Republicans have captured the White House and Congress, but Democrats have the jobs.

This was a studied and coldly systematic program which began in the thirties and endured until Harry Truman left office last January — to load the federal government with civil — service appointees who would be eternally grateful to Democrats.

It is one of the problems inherited by the Eisenhower administration. First, it is a problem of administration, because the new regime needs to install its own team. Second, it is a problem of party politics, because the new regime also wants to dispense patronage.

President Eisenhower's executive order to fire a group of employees who nominally are under civil service but actually are policy-makers who should step aside for appointees of the new administration is a challenge to the distortion of the civil-service theory during 20 years of Democratic exploitation.

The best thing that could happen now would be for some of the dismissed employees to challenge the new President's right to fire them. A showdown is overdue. If civil service has come to mean the right to be a payroll parasite, Congress will have to bring civil-service legislation up to date.

New York City's floundering on the brink of bankruptcy are being viewed with curious detachment, even by New Yorkers. There will be no room for detachment if the metropolis fails to solve its staggering accumulation of money problems.

Every citizen of the United States then would be tapped in one form or another to help pay for the consequences of gross mismanagement. The problem would not be confined to New York City, or even to New York state. It would be shared by the nation.

The Wall Street Journal, which is peculiarly qualified to comment on the tragedy of fiscal mismanagement in the world's greatest city, makes this summary of the events leading up to the tragedy:

"Corruption is no more than a small part of the trouble. The larger reason is an attitude toward government. . . . The people have acquiesced in the idea that government should 'do something' for the people without any regard to cost . . . that if in performing social service the government runs short of money—well, it should just go get some more money."

But when the time came to get more money, no one knew where to get it. New York City, with a spending total larger than that of any state and rising day by day, is face to face with reality after a long period of evasion.

We're hearing that even scantier bathing suits may get by in some spots, come summer, just barely, perhaps.

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock.—Revelation 3:20.

O Jesus, Thou art standing outside the fast-closed door, In lowly patience waiting to pass the threshold o'er We wear the name of Christians, His name and sign we bear,

O shame, thrice shame upon us, to keep Him standing there. —William Walsham How

Today's Message

Think of the mind of God as brooding in these days over the minds of men. He has such a time with us, for He will not force His way in. "Behold," He says, "I stand at the door and knock."

It's a strange appeal in a day when the doors of human personality are battered down. Dictators' lieutenants say to the people: "Have this mind in you which is also in our leader." And they have it—or appear to have it—and the dictator is satisfied. But God just stands at the door and knocks, for He seeks not an outward allegiance but a willing devotion.

Many a time the door is unanswered. We're in the cellar perhaps, or we peep through the window to see who's there and decide we're not "at home." Or we open the door and then firmly push it shut while He's trying to tell us His story. But the undiscourageable God is brooding over the minds of men, knocking, seeking from them a willing devotion.

Truth Rears Its Head

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Evidence Mounts In Ammunition Scandal

Congress has only scratched the surface of the ammunition scandal of the Truman administration and, despite the "buck passing" and the attempts to cover up, the truth is bound to come out.

Today this correspondent presents a copy of a telegram just sent by Lieut. Gen. Edward M. Almond to Gen. Van Fleet backing up the latter's charges.

Gen. Almond, who retired on February 1 and is, therefore, in a position now to speak freely, was commander of the 10th Army Corps in Korea from the time of the Inchon landing on September 15, 1950, until July, 1951. Since Gen. Van Fleet took command on April 14, 1951 and Gen. Almond left Korea on July 15, 1951, their terms of service overlapped for several months. Here is the text of the telegram to Gen. Van Fleet from Gen. Almond:

"Heartly congratulations on your magnificent testimony, as reported in the press, before Congress on the military situation in Korea.

"Your honest and correct interpretations of conditions there have served to enlighten the people of our country and to confound and to deflate the generalizations and equivocations made by those who have tried to discredit your statements. I know the facts to be as you have stated them from the beginning of the Korean conflict until the time I left you in July 1951.

Since my departure, my interpretation of information corroborates your testimony. Public statements made by me since my retirement support your views 100 per cent and I am ready at any time to substantially support your position.

"Your service to our nation has been magnificent and your statements in Congress add emphasis to your loyalty and patriotism. My best wishes to you always as a comrade in arms."

But perhaps the most significant piece of information comes from Tracy S. Voorhees, undersecretary of the Army in the last administration. In a copyrighted interview in "U. S. News & World Report" this week, Mr. Voorhees says:

"We have gone into this Korean War, for instance, without either any budgetary or production plan for it. It was assumed budgetwise, and therefore productionwise, that the Korean War would end by July 1, 1951. But the war got rather obstinate and temperamental and declined to end, so they extended its life to July 1, 1952. The war was still stubborn, so its lease of life was extended by the U. S. planners until July 1, 1953. That was, I believe, one reason for this cutback which was made in U. S. production announced early last December. The net result has been that the Korean War remains alive and hungry for military equipment and supplies, and that we have just kept taking things that were produced for Europe and have shipped them to Korea."

"Anybody can criticize our military people for doing that when our fighting men in Korea were short of these arms. But we can criticize the failure to plan to carry on a war we are already in, so that our men will have the equipment and supplies to fight it. There is certainly high support for such a statement since President Eisenhower came back from Korea and made a general reference to shortages of some supplies over there that would have to be corrected. But the shortage, it seems to me, was not due to the Army's failure to buy what was needed, but to the Budget Bureau's decision not to let the Army budget and procure on a scale which would see the Korean War through without diverting to Korea equipment and supplies produced for our allies in Europe."

"Whose responsibility was that—secretary of defense? Chief of staff?" Mr. Voorhees was asked. "No, I think it was a basic government policy that was wrong," he replied. "A policy of partial, restricted, limited effort which went right straight through our government."

"The Budget Bureau, which presumably had the President's approval, took this position about not budgeting for a possible or probable continuance of the Korean War. Then it was unpopular to deprive the American consumer public of anything, so we went right on manufacturing automobiles, refrigerators and everything else, instead of manufacturing these things we needed to fight with in Korea and to create a real defense in Europe."

"As I see it, it is the policy of 'too little and too late' that was wrong. The point is that we have been at war for two and a half years and have this big Russian military threat hanging over Europe, and so threatening us also. And we are the one country in the world that can certainly succeed in production, but we just haven't done it fast enough."

What do the GI's think of all this?

In a letter to this correspondent received today, a lady writes about her brother's boy who had come home from Korea covered with medals and Purple Heart decorations:

"Now that he is at home and in college, his only bitterness is when he gets talking about how all his buddies got killed right before his eyes and how they wouldn't have been if they only had some ammunition. . . . "My younger son is on an ammunition ship plying up and down both coasts of Korea rearming the carriers at battleships."

"The day your article came out, we got a letter from him saying his ship went into some little town to give a load of ammunition to some Army unit that had gotten stranded there with absolutely nothing."

The point is that the soldiers in Korea have for many months been writing home about the shortage of ammunition in Korea. They knew it. The enemy probably knew it — because attacks were sporadic.

But the American people haven't known the truth — and if it were not for the sometimes condemned system of congressional investigations, they wouldn't know about it yet.

Building Up to Another Korea?

A Mixed-Up Book

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

For a year or more I have been planning to write about a mixed-up book, "The Iron Curtain Over America," by Professor John

Sokolsky

Beaty, but never got around to it, what with one thing or another. This book is having a widespread circulation, some organization sending out free copies of which I got several.

I received from James W. Field, Jr., pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles and founder of Spiritual Mobilization, a pamphlet attacking this book, written by V. Orval Watts for the publication, "Faith and Freedom."

It is impossible to read Professor John Beaty's book without reaching the conclusion that the professor seeks to prove that Communism is a Jewish movement. HE DEVELOPS a theory about "Judaized Khazars" for which there is no historical basis. The Khazars were a Turkish people, small in number, who were converted to Judaism in the 9th century and who were absorbed among the Jewish, Turkish and Russian peoples and disappeared from history by the end of the 11th century.

Mr. Watts calls attention to Professor Beaty's carelessness in citing his authorities. He says:

"At the outset a critical reader may note that the author sometimes gives references for trifling details, while he makes many highly important allegations without a scrap of supporting evidence or documentation."

Prof. Beaty makes a violent attack on the Babylonian Talmud, which is an encyclopedia of huge dimensions that has only recently appeared in full English translation. I have found, over the years, that many who quote from it have never read it either in the original or in translation but have seen some excerpts.

IT IS a difficult task to read the Talmud because it is prepared in a scholastic manner, giving the pros and cons on many questions, the wrong point of view being set up with the object of having it knocked down.

The Talmud also contains history, science, genealogy, anthropology, myths, fiction, folklore and adages. One can find in it both sides of most questions and some arguments to uphold each side. Such persons as John Beaty and Elizabeth Dilling issue pronouncements on this great work without proper preparation.

After the fall of the temple in Jerusalem in 70 A.M., many Jewish scholars and rabbis settled in Babylonia where academies already existed for the study of the law.

THE ACADEMIES at Sura and Pumbedita achieved the greatest distinction.

Prof. George Foot Moore, at one time professor of the History of Religion in Harvard University, who, although a Christian, was, in his day, one of the world's greatest authorities on the Jews, wrote: "It is proper to say that the Talmud is one of the books of which even the best translation is in large part to be understood only with the aid of the original and of the Hebrew commentaries."

With regard to the Jews, Prof. Moore wrote:

"Of all the religions which at the beginning of the Christian era flourished in the Roman and Parthian empires Judaism alone has survived, and it survived because it succeeded in achieving a unity of belief and observance among Jews in all their wide dispersion then and since . . ."

IT WAS because of the existence of the Talmud that such uniformity could be achieved. Prof. Moore has stated the essence of the Jewish faith in one concise paragraph which I quote herewith:

"The foundation of Judaism is the belief that religion is revealed. What man is to believe concerning God and what duty God requires of man, he has made known in one form or another by revelation. Specific commandments had been given to Adam, Noah, Abraham, and Jacob; to Moses the complete revelation was given once for all."

"The prophets who came after him repeated, explained, emphasized, applied, what was revealed to Moses; they added nothing to it."

"The revelation to Moses was in part embodied in writing in the Pentateuch, in part transmitted orally from generation to generation in unbroken succession down to the schools of the Law in which tradition was defined, formulated, and systematized."

"The whole of religion was revealed—no thing was kept back in heaven—and the whole content of revelation was religion."

In the present confusion in this world of ours, we need to try to find some clarity, particularly in defining our terms. Otherwise, we strengthen the enemy of all of us.

From Our Readers

Taylor States His Case

(With the final journal entry filed in common pleas court, the ballot dispute between John Taylor Printer, Inc. of Lisbon and the Columbiana county board of elections has been marked closed, now that the deadline for appealing is passed. Judge Joel H. Sharp upheld the firm's contention that the board does not have authority to require union labels on ballots. The contract for last fall's ballots originally was awarded to the Taylor printing concern and then withdrawn when the board charged that the contract quotations were revised upward after the figures had been made public. Mr. Taylor insists the board was erroneous in this charge and states his case in the following letter to The News.)

"The facts of the ballot dispute are entirely different from the statements issued by the Board of Elections. The board has tried to give the public the impression that we increased our prices after the bids were made public in order to cover up a deliberate attempt to discriminate against a CIO union and open shops, and favor an AFL union. This is an old political trick which I'm surprised the newspapers have not recognized."

"Our $1,400 low bid included the Lithographic Label. When the board demanded that we sign an agreement to furnish the union label, we notified them when we returned the agreement, that insistence on using the Typo or Allied labels would require us to increase our bid, but that we could furnish the lithographic label at no increase in price. This was because we would be denied the use of the larger and faster lithographic press and compel us to use a smaller and slower press. The lithographic press came under the jurisdiction of the Lithographers Union, a CIO affiliate. Our bid was based on using the faster press, of a size to print the presidential, state and county, judicial and county-wide questions and issues on one sheet, thus saving some 200,000 press impressions."

"The board could have accepted our original low bid and used the litho label, as the court decision proves."

"The Lithographers Union protested this discrimination as did open shop printers."

"To compel these public officials to cease being careless with the public purse and cease to discriminate between different unions as well as open shop printers, I asked the court for a decision. This decision should cause all administrative public officials to wake up to the fact that their oath of office is not something to take lightly and ignorance of the constitution is no excuse to do otherwise. The auditor of state should now find it easy to recover the wasted $1,400 for the taxpayers when the audit of the board's books is made."

John Taylor

(Taylor's original bid, with the CIO label, was $2,503.78. When this was rejected by the board, the contract was let to the Keystone Printing Co. of East Liverpool on its original bid of $3,948.)

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

It comes out that we put $240,000 into a home for our ambassadors to West Germany and if this doesn't sell the German people on our simple, democratic way of life we'll just have to get up another quarter million and add another wing.

Maybe it's just as well that Germany is divided into zones. If we had an ambassador to all Germany probably we couldn't afford it. Or we'd have to stick him in some little half-a-million-dollar shack and trust to luck that the Germans wouldn't be offended by our official poverty.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Special Delivery

Mr. John D. Rockefeller, 3rd.

Dear JDR-3: I see where you have given $95,000 to the American Museum of History for a new study of man, tracing his development from the beginning to the present day. "Man as he is today will be shown by models, demonstrations and other new exhibition techniques designed to present the three-dimensional view of factors contributing to the make-up of the species," you say.

Well, I wish you could leave out Man as He Is Today. He can ruin any exhibition. He looks awful and is in worse shape than he seems. If you don't want the museum exhibit to be extra depressing, you will stop when you have reached Man at the End of the First World War. Even sooner. He has gone down fast.

The Behind-the-Eight-Ball (1953) Man, also called The Goofaroo Man, is pretty much like the original Cave Man. You could just make a duplicate of the old model for this specimen. It is hard to tell the difference between the Neanderthal Man and the 1953 Man. Just show t Jay's man with his hair on end, wearing a hon-burg hat and Tartan vest, wondering what will pop next.

The 1953 Man is quite a study, Johnny boy. I doubt if you could do much with him for $95,000. It would cost more than that to discover a technique (three dimension or not) which would give him the necessary expression of bafflement, dizziness and general alarm.

A true model of the Behind-the-Eight-Ball Man would have to convey clearly the impression of a guy who had blown his top, lost his rudder, scrapped his compass, burned out a set of fuses, snapped his cap, and began trying to put on his hat, feet first.

There is nothing about the man of today that resembles the Know-Where-I'm-Going Man of 1910, for example. Where the All-Done-on-Margin Man of 1928 had not developed the Pinned-Back-Ears. The 1928 Man lacked the pop-eyed expression and bored overall demeanor of the Video Man or 1948-53 type.

He walked erect instead of sprawling on a couch watching a screen to see what would happen next in the way of a world crisis. He didn't have that queer physique that comes from taking only 12 minutes for a full meal, making unnecessary week-end auto trips on crowded highways and looking under the bed for ogres and monsters.

If you go ahead with this model of the 1953 Man, you will have to be sure you show him with a fright-wig on, and wearing, for all occasions, the completely sabotaged demeanor. Even the 1941 (Here-We-Go-Again) Man didn't have to wear bumpers front and rear, and carry a gyroscope. His head was longer, as it hadn't been flattened by so many blows.

An interesting exhibit should be the Cauliflower-Ear-Man (1947-1953). In him the battered look reached a height. By 1950, he had developed the low chassis and the ball-bearing neck which permitted him to see in all directions, turn his head around at the slightest sound. (The 1960 Man had better have one big eye in the back of his head which lights up at the approach of a new crisis anywhere.)

Well, good, luck, John, and could you include in the exhibit the 1945 Man, filled with hope, chastened by war and in a mood to drop that gun, eat his spinach, get to work on time, stop throwing things and be careful what movements he endorsed? He was interesting.

As ever
Elmer (The Where-Am-I Man)

Few things have been as disturbing as the AAA announcement that 66 million Americans will pile into 22 million automobiles every weekend this summer. There is now one pleasure car for every three and a half persons in the U. S. A. (The half persons are the people who sit in the crowded back seat with the dog in their laps.) Think of it: One of out of every three and a half men and women crying, "Where did you learn to drive?" "Ya want the whole road, stupid?" and "You and who else!" This means a great majority of the people are engaged in trying to make the others set new sprint records crossing streets.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FIVE YEARS AGO — A plane carrying U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R. Ohio) on a campaign swing through Maine crashed today on the ice-covered Kennebec River but the Republican presidential candidate escaped without injury.

Knights of Pythias and guests enjoyed a benefit party held Saturday evening in the K. of P. Hall. Prizes went to Mrs. Olive Clipper, Mrs. Glen Couchie, James Baxter and Blaine McCleskey, while Mrs. George Barnes Sr. and Mrs. Ralph Wang won special prizes. Mr. Baxter and his committee were in charge of the lunch.

TEN YEARS AGO — Salem's Victory Garden committee formulated plans for establishing a garden information booth at the Memorial Building to aid victory gardeners when the committee met yesterday noon at the Lape Hotel.

The information booth, which will be operated by members of the committee will help persons find garden plots in the city and secure help for plowing.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO — Just as twilight was fading into darkness, Miss Nancy Miller, an American girl, newly converted to the Hindoo faith, was married this evening to Tukojirao Holkar, Indian prince and former Maharajah of Indor, before a sacred nuptial altar in a small jungle of palm trees hard by Barwaha.

According to reports received from Columb today by Salem sportsmen, the work of clearing the site of Guilford State Park will begin sometime soon.

FORTY YEARS AGO — By empowering the board of directors to proceed with the construction of a new and larger dam and club house at the Salem Country Club grounds west of the city, along the Stark Electric Road, stockholders Monday evening took preliminary steps that will result in the expenditure of $4500 on improvements at this popular local resort.

Salem, Canton Quota Clubs Hear Talk By Mrs. Crothers

"Remember, everyone is handicapped in one way or another and you are the one to fight for your child's right to have an educational and creative experience. Have courage and make him a leader in things outside his hand-capped field."

This was the concluding thought in an informative talk on "Education and Creative Joy for the Handicapped" by Mrs. Thomas E. Crothers to members of the Salem and Canton Quota Clubs Monday evening. The dinner meeting was at the Canton Women's Club.

Mrs. Crothers, graduate of Kent University and Northwestern University, is a speech teacher.

"It is no use crying about having a handicapped child or telling your troubles to others. Get busy and do something about it. Money will not help nearly as much as love, time and patient understanding and determination," Mrs. Crothers said. "See that the child joins clubs on the radio, has pets, enters contests, dramatics, and scouting. Trips to museums and zoos and also rock and butterfly collections will help," she suggested.

Never give the child the impression that he has failed in his speech efforts, she said.

"These children deserve the right to creative joy, although many of them never get it. They are the ones who sit silent when they know the answer, and the teacher also knows that they know it. They have wonderful expressive voices but won't go out for a play because when they see an audience they begin to stutter. I have found that puppetry (where they are hidden from the audience) gives them confidence and they get full benefits of their dramatic abilities without stuttering once," Mrs. Crothers said.

She is of the opinion that "Opportunity Rooms" in schools give confidence, understanding friends and happy school years to these children.

Mrs. Dorothy Sayre, president of the Canton Club, officiated. Miss Eleanor McMurray is president of the Salem club.

Other entertainment included two readings, "Lasca" and "Willie's Prayer" by Mrs. Robin Herrington of Canton.

Members of the Salem club attending, besides the president and the speaker, were:

Miss Blanche Fulton, Miss Anne Moore, Mrs. Helen Brumbaugh, Miss Nora Greenawald, Mrs. Ray Pearce, Miss Rose McLaughlin, Miss Elsie Thomas, Eve Paparedis, Miss Ruth Holk and Mrs. A. Hansell.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 31, for which a program is being arranged. March committee includes Mrs. Clyde Williams, Miss Mona McArthur and Miss Sarah Hanna.

Class Of '43 Plans For Dinner-Dance
Dick Culbertson presided when committee members of the Salem High School class of 1943 met Monday night in the Memorial Building to complete plans for a reunion and dinner-dance to be held early this summer.

Amaranth Court Is Formed Here

A new Court, Order of the Amaranth, to be known as Faith Court No. 43, has been organized at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Mildred M. Smith of Youngstown, grand royal matron, and Dallas H. Struck of Warren, grand royal patron of the Grand Court, Order of the Amaranth, were presiding officers at the meeting Saturday.

The dining room of the temple, tastefully decorated with flower arrangements of ferns, white snapdragons, daffodils and iris, was a perfect setting for the impressive ceremonies which were exemplified by the Ohio Grand Court officers.

The royal patron and matron of the newly-formed local Court are Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Reichert and the associate patron and matron are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Crothers.

Other officers of the Court include:

Treasurer, Chester E. Kridler; secretary, Miss Elma Auld; conductress, Mrs. Fred Hall; associate conductress, Mrs. Chester E. Kridler; trustee for one year, Mrs. Jack Tibbitt; trustee for two years, Mrs. Sadie Hughes; standard bearer, Mrs. E. C. Delmore; marshal in the east, Mrs. George Conrad; marshal in the west, Mrs. John Gilbert; truth, Miss Harriet Percival; faith, Mrs. A. Louis Shaffer; wisdom, Mrs. Arthur Badgley; charity, Mrs. Lawrence Root of Damascus; pianist, Mrs. D. W. Lewis; historian, Mrs. Charles Oertel; prelate, Eric Nyberg; warder, Ernest Horton; sentinel, D. W. Lewis and flower girls, Mrs. R. K. Kuhl and Mrs. Russell Moore.

After the meeting, at a table covered with a green cloth and centered with a flower arrangement of white snapdragons and white tapers, refreshments were served to about 250 supreme and grand officers, guests and members who were present from Cleveland, Toledo, Mentor, Painesville, Columbus, Newark, Youngstown, Akron, Niles, Warren, North Jackson, Canton, East Palestine, Alliance, Canfield, Lisbon, Leetonia, Washington, Cuyahoga Falls and Hubbard.

Favors of shamrock design were presented to each guest.

The next meeting of the Court will be a coverdish dinner March 28 at 6:30 in the Masonic Temple.

Baptist Women Plan Thursday Meeting

'Juvenile Jury' Feature Of High School PTA Meeting

The High School Parent-Teacher Association last night nominated Carl McQuiklin president to succeed W.F. Ross.

Ross was nominated for vice-president, Mrs. Robert Dunn, secretary and Howard Schaeffer, treasurer.

Mrs. John Litty, project chairman, announced that 33 high school students will take advantage of the vocational guidance and aptitude testing program made possible locally by Western Reserve University in cooperation with the P.T.A.

After a short business meeting, a "Juvenile Jury" program featured Margie Hannay, Helen Dora Capacia, Donna Blender, and Nancy Cosma, with James Barcus, James Schmid, and Jack Gottschling acting as a discussion group for questions of parent-student relationship submitted by the parents, and by high school students.

A large number of questions of unusual deep significance were capably handled by the students, to the mutual benefit of all present.

The last meeting of the P.T.A. will be held at the High School May 5, at which time the election of officers will take place.

Salem Couple Feted On 50th Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Scott of Salem, Mrs. Emma Andrews of Conneaut Lake, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Brady Eddy of Cleveland were guests at a family dinner Saturday night at Barnett's honoring Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Mellinger in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Andrews are sisters of Mrs. Mellinger and the Bradys are her niece and nephew. Mrs. Jones was present at the wedding performed March 14, 1903, at the Methodist parsonage here.

Nearly 80 guests called Sunday when the Mellingers greeted friends and relatives at an open house reception in their Howard Ave. home.

The house was decorated throughout with beautiful flower arrangements which were among the many gifts received by the honorees, who were also showered with greeting cards.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lloyd Robusch, Mrs. Earl Shasteen, Mrs. Chester Mellinger, and Mrs. Raymond Mellinger, daughters and daughters-in-law of the couple.

Out of town guests were from Chester, W. Va., Conneaut Lake, Pa., Cleveland and Youngstown.

Mrs. Marshall Hostess To Cheerful Club

A birthday gift was presented Mrs. Wanda Marshall by Cheerful Club members when they met Tuesday for a coverdish luncheon in her home on E. Third St.

Table appointments carried out the St. Patrick Day theme and a birthday cake, which was the center attraction, was decorated in green.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Everett Hall and Mrs. Marshall received the special prize. Bingo entertained. The next party April 14 will be in the Hall home on Bank St.

Junior Music Study Club Has Meeting

The Monday night meeting of the Junior Music Study Club held in the Memorial Building was opened with the Junior Hymn and Pledge. Twenty-two members responded to roll call, giving names and facts of Russian composers.

The secretary reminded members to call one of the officers beforehand in order to be excused from meetings.

Mrs. Curtis Vaughan, club advisor, told of meeting Jocelyn Snyder, a former member. She also stated regulations for entering the Federation Contest and entry blanks were distributed to those planning to attend.

Sally Seullon was in charge of the program which included a piano solo "Two Guitars," played by Joan Schuller, and Wendell Dunn's baritone horn solo "Thoughts of Gold," accompanied by Nancy Fife.

The practice song of the evening was "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Mrs. Vaughan invited the group to meet March 20 in her N. Union Ave. home when Russell Jones will make recordings of Federation Contest numbers.

Brownie Troop 23 Has Anniversary Party

In observance of the Girl Scout anniversary, members of Brownie Troop 23 held a party Monday at the home of Normadene P.M. of the Georgetown Rd.

Games provided entertainment and the girls sang "Happy Birthday" when a lighted birthday cake was served by Normadene's mother, Mrs. Norma Pim. She was assisted by Mrs. Tyler Jacobson, assistant leader of the troop and Mrs. Loren Pim, troop committee member.

Loren Early Tells P.T.A. Of Goals Of Modern Education

Principal Loren D. Early gave an interesting talk on "Goals of Modern Public School Education" when Fourth St. School Parent-Teacher Association held their March meeting Monday night.

He stressed the danger of proceeding in educational work without definite goals and definitions. Education may be defined as the process by which an individual becomes better able to live in society, he said.

Mr. Early said the schools today try to teach the children to do better the desirable things, to reveal higher activities in the type of reading, music and arts; to emphasize democracy and the part it plays in our lives; to give attention to individual differences in children and to emphasize health and the mental happiness of each child to make him feel he has a place in the world.

"A good citizen in school will be a good citizen in later life," Mr. Early concluded.

Gale Daugherty, Mrs. Joseph Fester and Mr. Early were elected as members of the nominating committee for officers for next year.

The next P.T.A. meeting to be held April 28 at 8 p.m. in the Junior High Auditorium will be a Music Festival featuring the Junior High Band, orchestra, choir and choir groups.

Ticket sales will be in charge of Junior High students. A bake sale is planned for the same evening and all proceeds will benefit the Swimming Pool Fund.

Joan Widmyer Is Wed To Joseph Mancuso In Massillon

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mancuso, who were married last Saturday by Rev. George C. Beebe in the First Methodist Church in Massillon, are now making their home on the Damascus Rd.

The Massillon clergyman, former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony in which the couple pledged their vows with an exchange of rings. The bride was Joan A. Widmyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Widmyer of N. Ellsworth Ave. and the groom is the son of Peter Mancuso of Leetonia.

Mr. Widmyer escorted his daughter to the altar where flowers added to the setting. Traditional nuptial music heralded the bridal party.

Talisman roses and dark brown accessories complemented the bride's beige suit of glaze alpaca. Her only attendant was Miss Ruth Bowman, maid of honor. Miss Bowman wore a light blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Best man was Leonard Di Ludovico.

The wedding party dined, following the ceremony, at Bannisters at Massillon. For their honeymoon trip through the southern part of Ohio Mrs. Mancuso traveled in her wedding suit.

A graduate of Salem High School, the bride attended Kent State University. The groom attended Leetonia High School and is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad. His bride is an employee of the Deming Co.

Tips For Parents Given By Professor To Prospect P. T. A.

Dr. Dwight D. Arnold, professor of education and director of guidance testing at Kent State University was guest speaker when Prospect School Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night in the school gym.

Widely recognized as an authority in guidance and counseling, Dr. Arnold's topic was "How To Become More Effective Parents."

He stressed the necessity of being consistent in disciplining the child and gradually placing responsibility on him. He suggested that parents read all the literature and psychology books available, then put them on the shelf and use their own judgment in settling problems as they arise.

Dr. Arnold believes that if parents take the trouble to see that their children's tasks are made "interesting responsibilities" instead of job of work forced upon them, better results will be achieved.

Regarding allowances for children, the speaker stated that all children should have a regular allowance and be permitted to spend it as they see fit. Even though

SPRING has always been identified with youth. This year, again, the prettiest, fluffiest and most beguiling fashions are for the very young. This, of course, is as it should be.

We picture here the young actress, Elizabeth Taylor, in the fluffy and beguiling spring fashions designed for her newest motion picture. These are ruffled, romantic fashions that the very young might like to adapt to their own spring wardrobes.

Miss Taylor wears (left) an exquisite white organza dress, a mass of ruffles that's cinched by a white taffeta girde embroidered in shell pink flowers. These are outlined in pearls and crystal beads.

Afternoon dress (right) is effective black organza striped with white embroidery. Ruffles appear here, too, in a very fine pleating at the cuffs. Wide calf belt defines a tiny waistline.

Leagues Vote Today On Transfer Of Braves To Milwaukee

Perini Confident He'll Get Okay

Says Owners Promise To Approve Switch

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Boston-to-Milwaukee franchise shift hung in the balance today as the National League and American Association met to vote on the transfer.

Owner Lou Perini was confident he would get approval to move his Braves into the minor league territory where he already operates a farm club.

"Somebody has to tell me why it isn't a good move," he said. "If they can show me it would be detrimental to baseball, I'll go along. But I won't be put off by any talk about this being too late to move."

"I'm apologetic about the timing. I'm sorry about it. But this is an entirely different proposition than Bill Veeck moving from St. Louis to Baltimore. I own both franchises. There is no chance of legal entanglements."

"I'm sick of pounding my head against a stone wall. This is no sudden thing. I've known for two years it was inevitable. Boston simply is not a two-club city."

Perini said he had contacted all National League owners, except Phil Wrigley of Chicago and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh. He said he had found no opposition.

"I have not stirred up any animosities," he said. "The owners are honorable men. I am sure they will make their decision on the basis of what is good for baseball. After I tell them my story I am confident they will say 'If that's what you really want, okay.'"

However, Veeck thought he had seven clubs on his side in his attempt to move the Browns to Baltimore. When he was defeated Monday afternoon, 5-2, he had only the votes of the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox.

In the National League, a unanimous vote is necessary to approve transfer of a franchise. One club can block it. Although Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn owner, hinted he might oppose the move, Perini said he had not so indicated when he talked with him.

The American Association, which was to meet an hour before the National League session, also was an important factor.

Bruce Dudley, American Association president, said it would require a 6-1 vote, with Milwaukee abstaining, to approve any transfer.

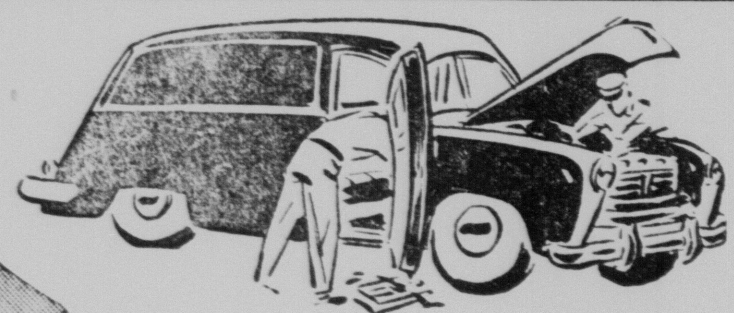

Barons Down Bears, Hornets Whip Flyers

By The Associated Press
The Cleveland Barons already have clinched the regular season American Hockey League championship but they keep right on winning.

The Barons trounced the Hershey Bears, 5-2 Tuesday night. In the only other game, the second place Pittsburgh Hornets whipped the St. Louis Flyers, 7-3.

The results left Hershey, in fourth place, still six points ahead of St. Louis. The Flyers must win all of their three remaining games to tie the Bears for the last playoff spot.

DOG ATKINS SIGNS
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today announced the signing of tackle Doug Atkins, their No. 1 choice in the pro football draft. Atkins, University of Tennessee griddle, was named to The Associated Press All-Southern team. Browns Coach Paul Brown says he is considering the 6-7, 250-pounder as a replacement for Bob Gain, who went into military service after the 1952 season.

Kluszewski Hits 2 Homers, Single

Redleg Shows Signs Of Having Top Year

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
This may be the year Big Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati will blossom out as one of major league baseball's greatest hitters. At least, all signs point in that direction.

Kluszewski pounded out two homers and a single, good for five runs, Tuesday as Cincinnati defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-6, at Clearwater, Fla.

The 28-year-old Redleg first baseman finished third among National League batters in 1952 with a .320 average. But veteran observers, among them Cincinnati Manager Rogers Hornsby, believe Ted can do a lot better.

"Potentially, Kluszewski is a great hitter," Hornsby said earlier this spring. "If he just would apply himself a little more he might lead the league."

Up to now, there's no doubt that Ted has been bearing down. The former Indiana University football star hit his home runs Tuesday in the first and third innings, each time with Gus Bell on base. In the fifth, his safety delivered Grady Hatton.

In other games, old-fashioned slugfests were the order of the day.

At Orlando, the Brooklyn Dodgers outscored the Washington Senators, 11-10, in 10 innings. The Dodgers collected 32 hits.

Les Moss' homer with two mates aboard climaxed a two-out six run rally in the ninth inning and gave the St. Louis Browns a 9-6 win over the New York Giants.

The Cleveland Indians tallied in the 10th inning on singles by Jim Lemon and Bob Kennedy to beat the Chicago White Sox, 7-6.

In another extra-inning game, the Boston Red Sox went 14 frames before edging the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5.

At Bradenton, a two-run double by Rookie infielder Harry Hanebrink in the eighth inning gave the Bos on Braves a 5-2 triumph over the world champion New York Yankees.

In a night game, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Cuban All-Stars, 3-2. The Chicago Cubs got only six hits of two Seattle hurlers and dropped a 2-1 decision to the Pacific Coast League club.

Sportsmen's Show To Feature Trout Stream

For the first time in the 16-year history of the American and Canadian Vacation and Boat Show, a fully stocked trout stream will be installed in Cleveland Public Hall, March 20 through 29, where visitors to the show may fly-fish and keep their catch.

A h-r-fresh-shaped stream, six feet wide, with approximately 100 feet of fishing frontage will accommodate up to 50 casters at a time. Rainbow trout weighing from three-fourths of a pound to three pounds or more will be brought from crystal clear pools at Castalia, O., and placed in the stream. The fishing spot will have a realistic and natural appearance with a waterfall at one end of the stream.

54 Athletes Honored At Mount Union

Fifty-four Mount Union College athletes, including James Laughlin of Salem, were honored this morning during a chapel program at the college and will be guests to-night at the Sixth Annual All-Sports Banquet in Memorial Hall.

Laughlin won his award in first year football. Other area award winners are: Dean Rose of Lisbon, first year football; Cliff Davis of East Palestine, first year football; Arden Feldbush of Carrollton, first year basketball; and Jim Walton of Carrollton, freshman basketball numerical.

Mount Union's athletic award system features the customary "M" the first year in basketball and football, a tie clasp the second year and a blanket the third year.

Guest speaker at the banquet this evening will be R. L. "Dick" Kroesen, president of the Cleveland Arena, Dr. Charles B. Ketcham, college president, also will address the body. Clarence Steffy, managing editor of the Alliance Review, will preside as toastmaster.

Open to the public, more than 250 persons are expected to attend the dinner.

Jayhawks, Indiana In NCAA Playoff

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Phog Allen's "half scared and skinny legged" Kansas Jayhawks will defend their national college basketball championship against Indiana's high-strung Hoosiers tonight.

Coches Branch McCracken's Indians, Big Ten champions and noted No. 1 nationally, followed the form chart in beating Louisiana State, 80-67, in the opening game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's semifinals Tuesday night.

Kansas, with only one of its five starters back from the NCAA and Big Seven Conference's 1952 champs, humbled Washington's Huskies, the country's No. 2 quintet, 79-53.

HEADS PROBE COMMISSION

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R-Franklin) has been elected chairman of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission. Sen. Anthony Celebrezze (D-Cuyahoga) was elected vice chairman and Sen. Delbert L. Latta (R-Hancock) was named secretary.

SEEKS MAYOR NOMINATION

AKRON, O. (AP)—Warren E. Carter, president of the Carter Jones Lumber Co., says he will seek the Democratic nomination for mayor. Carter, a past president of the Akron Chamber of Commerce, has worked on several civic committees with Republican Mayor Charles E. Slusser.

Jordon Heads 1953 Class A Ohio All-Star Cage Squad

Sebring Star Averaged 26.1 Points Per Game; Nicholson Gets Mention

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Five youngsters from among the 5,000 playing for 262 schools won berths today on The Associated Press 1953 Class A Ohio high school all-star basketball team.

Sebring's Eddie Jordan, a six-foot all-around star who averaged 26.1 for the campaign, was voted the No. 1 player by the state's coaches, sports writers and officials and won the first team captaincy.

With Jordan at forward is Leonard Dawson, of the Alliance Team, who also won a first-string quarterback berth in football. He's the first Class A player to make both the basketball and football All-Ohio varsity in years.

Middletown's lanky Cliff Hafer, only one of the first five who will appear in the state tourney at Cincinnati, grabbed the center berth, and the guard positions went to Vern Woods of Dayton Stivers and Jim Schafer of Mansfield.

Dayton Stivers, knocked out of tourney play by Middletown for the Gem City Club's only defeat at the hands of an Ohio team, was the lone school to place two players among the first 15. Dale Fairchild of Stivers won a second-string forward berth alongside Steve Gwin of Cleveland East Tech.

Dick Horky of Newark, another state tourney entrant, was named a second team guard, as was Jim Shearon of Toledo Devilbiss. The latter was named captain of the second team as he just missed a first-place berth. Wayne Stevens of Chillicothe, at center, rounded out the second squad.

Ray Beach of Girard, and Bill Coyne of Cleveland St. Ignatius, won honorable mention spots. Both will appear in the state meet this week end. The third team captaincy went to another Coyne, Don of Bell-air.

The first stringers, with Jordan averaging 26.1, Dawson 19.7, Hafer

15.2, Woods 15.1 and Schafer 24.2. Eddie Joe Grandy, Logan; Norman Lee, Dayton Roosevelt; Bob Brennan, Cincinnati Western Hills; Dick Stansberry, upper Sandusky; DelSignore, Youngstown East; Jim Morgan, Dayton Stivers; Bill McInturf, Lancaster; Harold Davis, Youngstown North; Hal Lawson, Fairview, and Bill Coyne, Cleveland St. Ignatius.

Little League Meeting Set For March 26

Little League baseball will be given its 1953 start in Salem Thursday, March 26, at a meeting in the high school of all boys interested in playing.

Trophies and awards from last year will be awarded at the meeting, set for 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

Releases to play in the league will be passed out to boys who do not already have them. Releases may be now secured at Gordon Leather and Fisher's News. They should be signed and turned in at the high school meeting.

League officials will be present at the high school and plans for the 1953 season will be discussed with the boys. Parents are also requested to attend.

Little League baseball is divided into three leagues here: the Little League for boys 8-12; Pony League for boys 12-15 and Junior American Legion League for boys 15-17. Little League baseball here is sponsored by the American Legion.

A new Standard In Style

Never before did your car dollar bring you so much fine car beauty. This new 1953 Ford is longer-looking, lower-looking, more massive looking. It's a match in style for any car at any price. And you get that trend-setting curved one-piece windshield.

White sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

Again Ford

sets the trend!

It's the New Standard of the American Road.

With 41 "Worth More"

features it's worth more

when you buy it...

worth more when you sell it.

While others were scampering

to catch up, Ford again

forged far out front

to bring you the greatest car value

ever.

F.D.A.P.

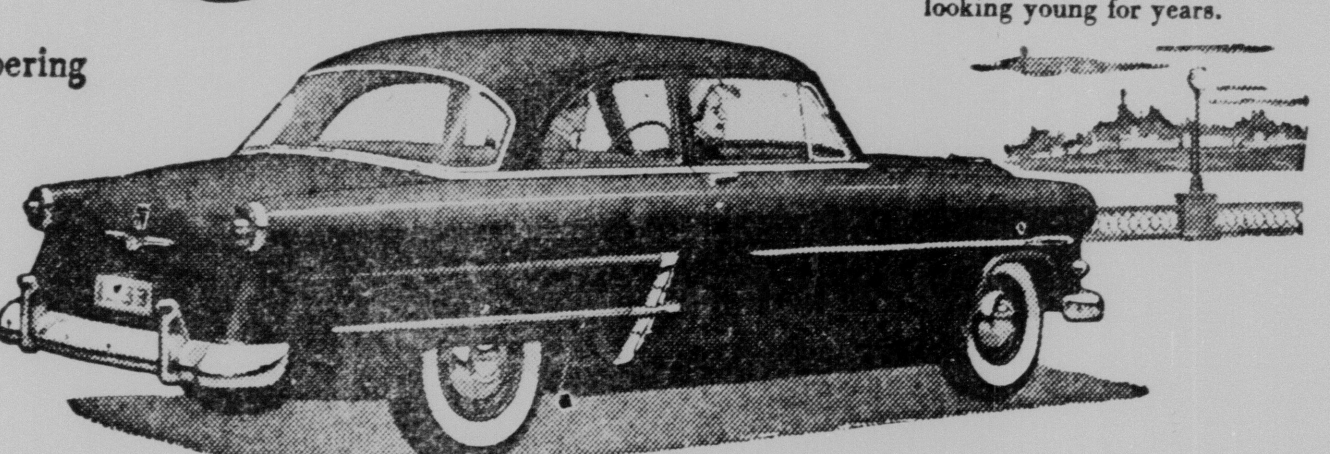

does it again!

A new Standard in "GO"

You can choose Ford's 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8... the only V-8 in Ford's field. Or Ford's 101-h.p. Mileage Maker Six... the most modern Six in the low-price field.

A new Standard in Build

Ford's quality design Crestmark Body and Ford's new Wonder Ride that shields the car from road shocks, will help keep your Ford feeling and looking young for years.

See it... Value Check it... Test Drive it! '53 FORD

Close Fight Seen In Ohio Finals With Middies Slight Favorite

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—If ever a state high school basketball tournament shaped up as a "they're all even—take your choice" affair, it's the one coming up Friday and Saturday at Cincinnati's Gardens.

Tribe Errors Again Pave Way To Defeat

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—The New York Yankees scouts following the Cleveland Indians through spring training had more good news today for Manager Casey Stengel.

The scouts—Roy Hamey and Babe Herman—saw the Tribe make two fat errors Tuesday, throw away a five-run lead and then have to come from behind to trim the Chicago White Sox, 7-6.

Costly errors last season resulted in Cleveland finishing two games behind New York despite three 20-game winning pitchers and some top rung hitting.

In 11 exhibition games so far this year—all of them watched by the Yankee scouts—the Indians have made 24 errors and 18 of those were in the infield.

Al Rosen threw wild Tuesday on Vern Stephens' grounder in the third, setting up the run which brought the score to five all.

Stephens tallied later on Chico Carrasquel's double.

Ray Boone fumbled Minnie Minoso's grounder to short in the fifth and when Stephens singled the Sox were ahead.

There were two outs in the ninth before Cleveland tied it up again as Harry Simpson tripled and went home on Larry Doby's single.

Singles by Jim Lemon and Bob Kennedy and an infield out by Dick Aylward won the game in the 10th.

The Indians play the New York Giants here today.

Cartier Disqualified

For Holding Turpin

LONDON (AP)—America's Walter Cartier held the holding Tuesday night in his short and unhappy middleweight fight with Randy Turpin but today the British were holding—holding up his purse money pending an inquiry into the fiasco which ended in disqualification.

The bout was stopped in the second round when Referee Tommy Little ordered Cartier out of the ring.

Cartier, a New Yorker, had been warned at least seven times to stop pinning Turpin's arms to his hips with the insides of his elbows.

Auto Inspection Bill Voted Down

Fails By 1 Vote; To Be Reconsidered

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio House of Representatives has plastered a defeat sticker on a bill to require annual safety inspections of motor vehicles. It is the first bill defeated in the 100th General Assembly, but the defeat may not stick.

Republican leaders say a reconsideration of the defeat by the House Tuesday of the auto inspection bill may be asked Thursday. The measure needed 69 votes for House approval; it got only 68 yes votes to 59 no.

The reconsideration, which has to arise from the faction which opposed the bill, must come within two days. A Republican who opposed the bill is reported ready now to support it.

The Republicans could have obtained the needed 69th vote Tuesday if House Speaker William Saxbe (R-Champaign) had cast the vote to which he is entitled, but in view of the governor's veto two years ago of a similar measure, he decided the one-vote edge would have been too narrow to face another veto.

The auto inspection measure was only one of two important issues before the Legislature Tuesday. The Senate disposed of the other by passing, 31-1, a bill to make the highway department a 15 million dollar gift to enable it to get an early start on major highway projects. The bill by Sen. David McK. Ferguson (R-Guernsey) now goes to the House.

Democratic Senate members went for the highway bill after a futile effort to stipulate, at Gov. Frank J. Lausche's insistence, that the 15 millions be considered a loan from the state treasury to be repaid out of future highway department revenues.

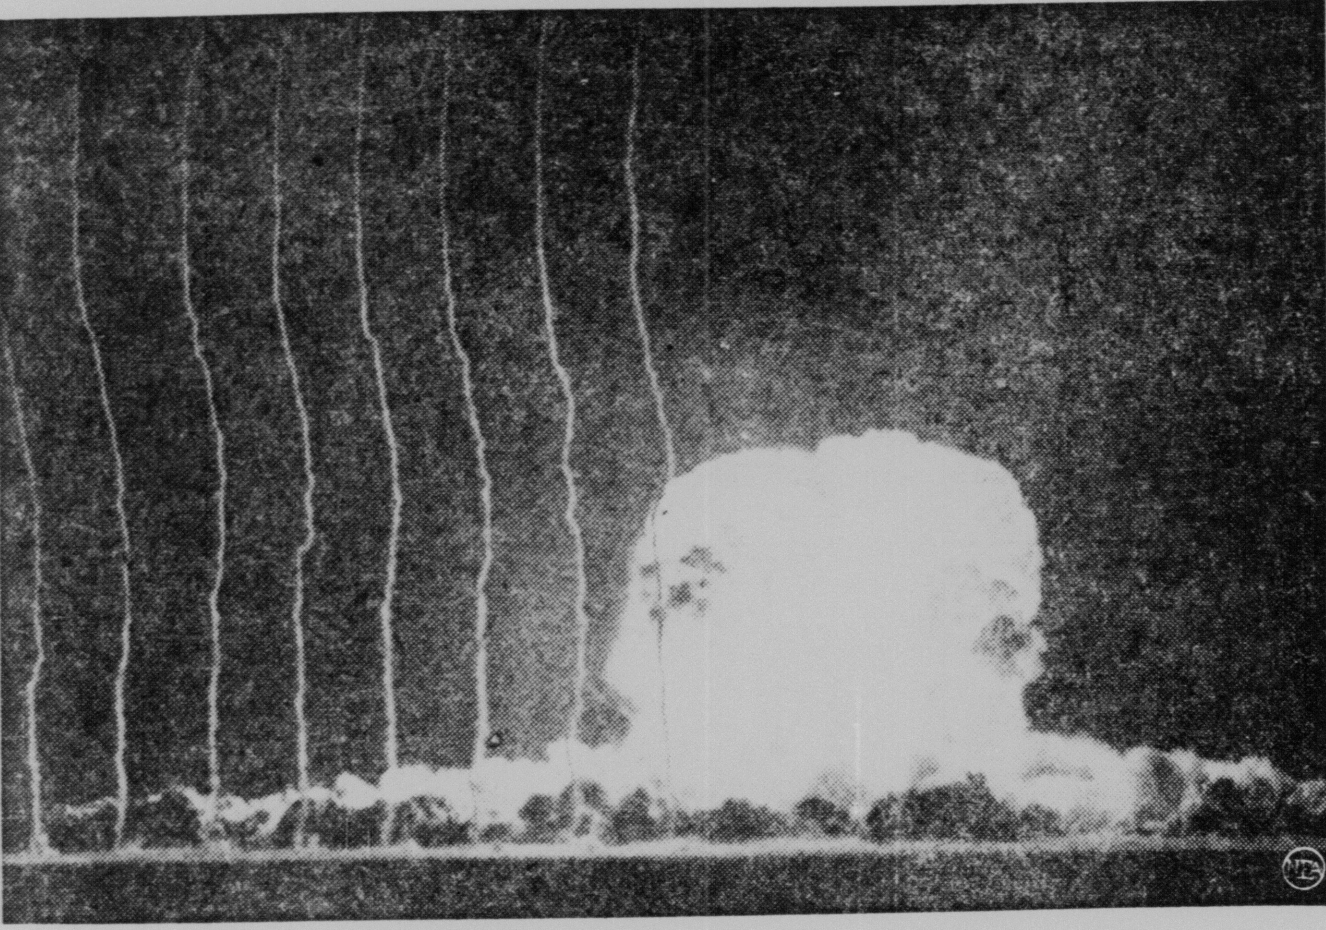

The inspection measure went down to defeat with nine representatives recorded as not voting. During a lengthy debate, the House cut the proposed inspection fee from $1.50 to $1.20 and then to $1. Another amendment eliminated the authority of the state highway patrol to require two inspections a year. The bill had left it up to the patrol superintendent to decide whether one or two inspections would be required.

A moved to ban pari-mutuel horse race betting was among the 32 new bills offered in the Legislature Tuesday. It was offered by Rep. Roy H. Longnecker (R-Wood), a Baptist minister.

His bill was a challenge to Lausche to justify his request for a boost in the state take on horse race wagering to six million dollars a year. While urging an increase in the pari-mutuel tax, Lausche has conducted a running battle with commercial gamblers. Longnecker says the governor's position is inconsistent.

Other bills offered would ban manufacture of imitation cigars, cigarettes and liquor bottles and would increase the state nurses' board from five to seven members.

Among senate resolutions received was a proposal for a seven-man Senate investigation on charges of patient mistreatment and maladministration at the Cambridge State Hospital. It was offered by Sen. Ralph Humphrey (R-Ashtabula).

CHARTING MIGHT OF ATOM BLAST—Trails of eight rockets reach skyward, left, as the first U. S. atomic explosion of 1953 occurs at the Atomic Test Site, Yucca Flats, Nevada. The trails form a grid against which atom scientists are able to measure height of the atomic explosion.

Test Blast Gives Lessons On How To Survive In Atomic War

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—On a friendly practice field of the Atomic Energy Commission, American civilian and soldier alike may have learned new lessons to wrest victory out of atomic war.

These are the pointers indicated by yesterday's double-barreled nuclear test.

For civilian—

1. In a car, "I would stay in it, open the windows and crouch down as far as possible on the seat or the floor," said J. Clayton Jenner of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.
2. In a house, try a basement-type bomb shelter, but make sure you have a solid concrete basement.
3. If caught in the open, lie flat on the ground if no good shelter is available.
- For soldier—
1. Crouch in a foxhole or lie flat. Army officers think now that the dug-in soldiers could have remained above ground, lying prone, at their two-mile distance from yesterday's blast tower on Yucca Flat.
2. Watch the wind and stay behind it. The breeze after the detonation at 300 feet swept the radioactive column and cloud eastward across the flat, where it hung threateningly for hours. But troops were able to march north through the vicinity of ground zero.
3. The bomb can be a friend if instructions are followed. Like their predecessors in atomic maneuvers, the 1,000 foot soldiers and 500 observers found little to fear in foxholes. Most said it wasn't as bad as they expected. Elton Fay, Associated Press military affairs reporter, found himself most impressed by "the unearthly white light" as he crouched face down in a five-foot trench.
4. Earth shock can be as potent a weapon as blast in a low level explosion. Fay concluded. The prolonged shuddering of the desert. Fay and other observers believe contributed greatly to the quick collapse of the first civil defense test house, 3,500 feet from the tower.

For the scientist, the first atomough performance of duties relative to that department.

He said that Patrolman George Reash, who has been ill for several months, is now on disability pension and may never return to the force. Reash, who recently returned home from the Cleveland Clinic is suffering a kidney ailment which is draining the calcium from his spine, he said. Patrolman Gilbert Bartha, a former member of the police force, was appointed Reash's successor some time ago.

Mr. Harwood reported that service crews are cleaning out the Newgarden - Wilson St. storm sewer. The "no turn" signs which the lawmakers had requested be set up to replace the "no left turn" signs at the intersections of Broadway and State St., and Lundy Ave. and State St., have been installed, he said.

He reported that the city had received 60 new parking meters to use as replacements for those which have worn out.

The safety-service director said also that a damage claim against the city has been submitted by Mrs. Bertha Olt of 240 N. Ellsworth Ave. The $39.60 claim is for repairs to a water line which Mrs. Olt declared a street roller broke while city employees were working in the alley alongside her home.

Councilman George Bowman Jr. read a request to the lawmakers from the Lorain Chamber of Commerce which asked that Salem Council lend its support to Lorain's suggestion that the Ohio turnpike be named the Admiral King Highway. King was a native of Lorain.

Attack

MIG15 high off the coast of Siberia Sunday.

Lt. Col. Robert S. Rich, 35, told a press conference at Eielson Air Force Base near here he tried to escape the attacker with a 390 mile per hour dive into a cloud bank and fired only after the MIG had opened up.

The attack occurred as the U. S. plane, on a routine weather flight, cruised north 25 miles out to sea from the Siberian coast. The Air Force said apparently neither craft was damaged in the third such sky encounter between planes of the East and West in a week.

It was the first incident reported by the Air Force in which an Alaska-based plane had actually been fired on by Red aircraft.

President Eisenhower declined comment, but there were congressional demands for an investigation.

The B50, on temporary duty with the 15th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron at Eielson from Forbes Field, Topeka, Kan., was approximately 100 miles east and slightly north of the huge Russian military base at Petropavlovsk on the Kamchatka Peninsula.

Rich gave this account of the skirmish:

The B50 had flown from Eielson over the Aleutian Islands to a point off the Kamchatka Peninsula and had been flying north about 25 miles off the Siberian coast for 30 to 40 minutes when the vapor trails of two planes were sighted 10 miles coastward from the U. S. plane.

He said the two planes vanished and appeared a few minutes later behind the B50 and some 5,000 to 6,000 feet higher than the U. S. craft, which was at an altitude of 25,000 feet.

Rich said the planes, which were identified as MIG15s, "kept coming on our tail" and suddenly one heeled over into a "pursuit" dive and made directly for the B50.

Rich said he immediately ordered the pilot of his plane, 1st Lt. Harry F. Welch of Ft. Huron, Mich., to dive into a layer of clouds at the 10,000-foot level.

As the B50 screamed toward cover, Rich said, he heard three or four of the crew members shout over the intercom system:

"They're firing at us."

"I issued the order 'Fire back,'" Rich said.

The Baraboo, Wis., colonel said members of the crew could plainly see smoke trailing from the MIG's guns as it fired "three or four" bursts from 1,000 yards away.

T. Sgt. Jesse L. Prim of Ozark, Ark., central flight control gunner, waited until the MIG was within 400 yards and then fired, by remote control, a burst of 20 shots from each of six .50-caliber machine guns.

All of Prim's shots passed behind the MIG, which dove underneath the bomber, came up on the other side in a high climb and vanished.

The whole episode lasted about 14 minutes, Rich said.

The 15th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron has been making routine weather flights west over the Aleutian Island chain and the Bering Strait and to the North Pole on alternate days for several years.

The first air encounter between planes of the West and East occurred a week ago yesterday when a MIG15 downed an American Thunderjet on patrol over Western Germany. The pilot escaped alive.

On March 12, a MIG15 shot down a British bomber over the Elber River Valley in Western Germany, with the bomber's seven crewmen killed or fatally injured in the flaming crash.

Gas-Firing Mayor To Seek Reelection

CLEVELAND (AP)—Suburban Bedford Heights' tear gas shooting mayor says he is going to seek reelection and refuses to quit under fire.

Mayor Robert E. Willeford told a City Council meeting Tuesday night "no one could possibly be sorer than I am" that his gas pellet burned the eyes of Saul Goldstone during an argument after the auto parts dealer was flagged down for speeding.

"If he should lose the sight of one eye," Willeford continued, "I would gladly give one of my own eyes to repair the damage."

"However, I do not believe I acted wrongly," he added.

"Council, meeting in a chamber jammed with unruly villagers, took no action on the case."

Willeford, who spends full time on the $1,100-a-year mayor's job and likes to ride with his cops, said he fired the pellet at an open car window as Goldstone was "apparently trying to drive away."

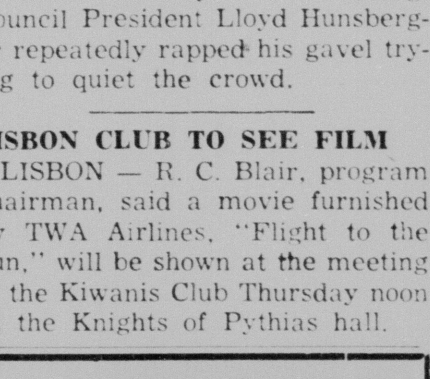

Goldstone, 35, was "exceedingly abusive to us" and refused to "accept the arrest notice or come to the village hall and post bond," the mayor asserted.

While the mayor was talking, Council President Lloyd Hunsberger repeatedly rapped his gavel trying to quiet the crowd.

Rotary Hears Herriott Defend Truck Industry

Kenneth C. Herriott of East Palestine, president of the Ohio Truckers Association, told Rotary Club members at their meeting in the Memorial Building Tuesday that the trucking industry was being forced to fight unjustified attacks.

He criticized Gov. Lausche's proposed ton-mile tax on trucks as a means of raising part of the $36 million Ohio needs for its road programs.

Herriott said a $2 increase in passenger car license fees would yield $8 million, and a small increase in gasoline tax would raise additional money.

Attorney Bryce Kendall was program chairman.

Herriott left afterwards for Columbus where last evening he addressed the state representatives' public affairs committee on the same subject.

He said there that a weight-distance tax might force truckers to move into other states to escape the proposed new levy.
